Fall Back

It's that time of year again when our days get shorter with it getting darker earlier. Daylight saving time ends on Sunday, Nov. 6th. You'll need to set your clocks back ("fall back") one hour before going to bed on Saturday November 6th.

Welcome

We are excited to welcome Sorcha to our ADC Recreation Specialist team. Sorcha is from Seattle, Washington and went to Whitman College in Walla Walla, Washington where she studied philosophy and psychology. Sorcha graduated in 2021 and spent the following year working as a direct support provider. Some fun facts about Sorcha:

1. Sorcha's name is Irish
2. Sorcha's dad is from Galway, Ireland
3. She loves movies and watches the Oscars every year
4. My favorite food is Indian!

Please introduce yourself and welcome her to the day center if you haven't already.

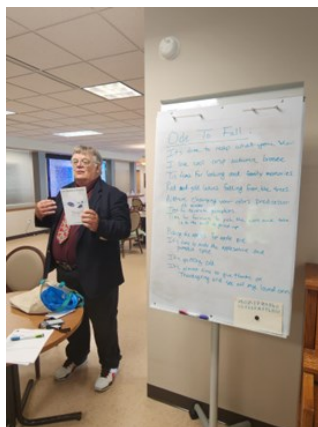

Ode to Fall

Created by participants with the help from a local poet, Mr. James P. Roberts

It's time to reap what you sew.
I love the cool, crisp autumn breeze.
Tis time for cooking and making family memories.
Red and gold leaves falling from the trees.

Nature changing your colors predecessor of winter.
Time to decorate pumpkins.
Time for farmers to pick the corn and take it to the mill to grind up.
Picking the apples for apple pie.

It's time to make the applesauce and pumpkin spice.
It's getting cold.
It's almost time to give thanks on Thanksgiving.
Looking forward to seeing all my loved ones.
